A serious address to Christian worshippers, on the importance of an early attendance upon publick worship. By the Rev. S. Addington Stephen Addington

"THE religious observation of the Sabbath, in an holy abstinence from the common business and amusements of life and a devout attendance upon Publick Worship, is strongly recommended by the command of God, and the practice of his people; by many express assurances of his gracious approbation of those who have so kept the day holy, and by solemn threatenings against such as impiously profane it. Thus saith the Lord, take heed to yourselves, and bear no burden on the sabbath day, neither do ye any work, but hallow ye the sabbath day as I commanded your fathers. Jer. xvii. 21, 22. If thou turn away thy foot, on account of the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day, and call the sabbath a delight, holy of the Lord and honourable, and shalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words, then thou shalt delight thyself in the Lord, &c. Isaiah lviii. 13. Whosoever doeth any work therein, that soul shall be cut off from amongst his people. Exod. xxxi, 14."

This is an edition of a classical book first published in the eighteenth century.
